Conduct

The interview allows the student to learn from the examiner how the student's exam script meets or does not meet the exam requirements. The examiner cannot change any marks given.

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a respectful, courteous, and professional manner throughout the interview process. Disruptive, inappropriate, or disrespectful behaviour towards the examiner may be subject to disciplinary action under the LPAB's policies.

Scheduling

By submitting a request to book an interview with an examiner, students acknowledge and agree to the following conditions:

- The interview will be held at a time and place convenient to the Examiner.
- Students are expected to respond to LPAB and examiner communications within a reasonable timeframe to avoid cancellation.
- If the student does not respond to reasonable attempts by the LPAB or examiner to schedule the interview, the request will be considered abandoned.
- In such cases, the interview booking will be cancelled, and no refund will be issued.
- Rescheduling requests must be made with sufficient notice and are subject to examiner availability. Failure to provide reasonable notice or repeated rescheduling may result in cancellation without refund.

Access to Examination Script

You will be provided with a copy of your exam script strictly for the purpose of your scheduled examiner interview

By accepting and accessing this document, you agree to the following conditions:

- You will use the exam script solely for the purpose of your examiner interview.
- You will not copy, share, distribute, publish, or otherwise disclose the contents of the script to any other person or platform, in any format.
- Any breach of these conditions may be considered a breach of academic integrity and subject to disciplinary action under the LPAB's policies.
- Access to your script has been granted under these specific and limited terms.

Cancellation/Non-Attendance

Once an interview has been booked, cancellations must be made with reasonable notice.

Cancellations made without sufficient notice may result in forfeiture of the interview fee.

If a student fails to attend a scheduled interview without prior communication, the booking will be considered a no-show, and no refund will be issued. All cancellations are subject to examiner discretion and availability for rescheduling.
